Comments: The Proposed Action document for the North Sandia Fuels Reduction Project (45 pages) very clearly describes the need for this project. The document also clearly describes why prescribed burns are an important component of the overall fuels reduction strategy. However, the current scoping documents do not specifically address the mitigation measures that will be taken to ensure that prescribed burns will not get out of control. Please include these mitigation measures in the updated project planning document(s) or provide references to where this information can be found. Mitigation measures should include contingency plans (e.g., evacuation plans) as well and all of this information needs to be communicated to the affected public.
