Comments: I am a resident of the San Luis Valley and have recreated in the RGNF for 40 years. Winter activities I regularly enjoy are cross country skiing, snowshoeing, ice fishing and ice skating. I often ski at Big Meadows, Tucker Ponds, Lobo Overlook. I also have skied at Trujillo Meadows, Grouse Creek, Spruce Yurt to name others. The opportunity to quietly recreate and move through forests and meadows under my own power is precious indeed. Human powered recreation is essential to health and mental wellbeing. I would like to see over the snow management in the RGNF include robust plans for human powered activities.
