Comments: I was born and raised in Williamsburg kentuckey. I'm in these woods regularly. Checking out plants looking at trees.

Our forest is healthy if you come in and start cutting down trees and clear cutting, they will not be healthy. Are rivers, Are creeks will not be healthy. Then you're gonna come in and spray herbicide to keep the invasive plants from growing while that washes down into our rivers and creeks. And in to the Mouths and body of our children, which already have enough problems in this area, from drugs and absent parents. I'm for alternative Number 2, no action, nothing gets logged.

Instead of cutting down trees, you could put in trails walking trails for recreational use. Bring in some tourism in this area. We already host Octoberfest, which brings in revenue.

Why not do something like that? Where's this money going? When you all cut down the trees? Where's the trees going to? I have a lot of questions. And I'm just now finding out that this is gonna happen a lot of people in this area don't even know.
