Comments: I am writing in my support of the Jellico Vegetation Management Project #63037. The Daniel Boone NF although a wonderful outdoor sanctuary is severely lacking in young growth forest. This lack of biodiversity in the forest is causing the loss of species that depend upon that for their survival needs. Projects like this are the only effective tool we have to get at the root of the problem and actively manage our forests in a responsible way that benefits a balanced array of plants, trees, insects, birds and mammals. I hope you get enough support to make this happen.
