Comments: Hello,

This valley is so special on an ecological and spiritual level. I recently spent a week there as a nature-based visitor in relationship to the land. My understanding is that much of this valley is ancient and often untouched-a rarity in today's world-I fear any intervention, even in the name of "restoration" will damage the integrity, fertility, and abundance of this place for all creatures and humans to benefit from. Please do not do this project.

Gratefully
Chris
