Comments: Sirs:

This proposed logging has caused much consternation amongst our community especially those whose property will be ravaged. We are alarmed that this proposal is for a way too long period of years. I want this plan downsized in all respects , more than the second draft. I am not a tree hugger, but if too many trees get marked for death, I will enlist others to hug those trees with me in order to save them.

There is an additional concern to limit the amount of tree removal. Therefore, I will not repeat the standard concerns already voiced by landowners, to not be redudant. My consideration for CO2 production is that the trees help us remove it from the atmosphere. But more important than this, the plants return to us oxygen for which my wife is dependent, having a lung imparement. She need clean air to thrive. It seems to me a big backwards to take away these oxygen manufacturers . As you may know, greenhouses pump extra CO2 into their nurseries to make plants thrive and grow faster. Removal of the trees in my judgement is ridiculous. For my wife the oxygen is very important. That exchange of CO2 for the benefit of more oxygen is a must. I'm sure there are many others with compromised lungs also. The air is full of enough pollutants. We need all the oxygen we can get!

Land stripping by construction and loggers is already reducing forests and woods. Our trees are needed more than ever to replace the vast vacant lands empty of vegetation. Our trees must make up for the trees that have already been removed to make up for the loss of oxygen. Do all you can to preserve the reduction of CO2 in our atmosphere.

Respectfully,

D. Jerry Iler
