Comments: I find it heart breaking that this beautiful and special borderlands area is going to be impacted by a new mine. Its going to harm specices of animal and birds and affect people from the dust created.. its going to impact the water supply.. Once this special place is lost it can never be regained. I hope the legal challenges to this project are successful. I support them 100%. I also understand that is a shaky precedent this project is built on, on a mine that was operational 60 years ago.
