Comments: As a person who friends and loved ones from and in the proposed logging zone, I am wholeheartedly opposed. Having seen the effects of logging on areas surrounding my home, I can understand people's distress. Logging for 40 years would cause irreconcilable damage to this beautiful region. People, animals and plant life would be damaged in ways that are nearly unimaginable and irreversible. In this day and time, when so many other options are available to us as humans, it is our God given task to seek ways to steward this land and planet more efficiently.
