Comments: To Whom it Concerns,

As an outdoor enthusiast and public forest/parks volunteer it is very concerning the direction of this project. It feels contrary to must current knowledge on old growth forests and contrary to what we as a society should strive for in terms of importance. Kentucky, and the DB forest, are a beautiful outdoor state and this project feels deaf towards what the state should value. I personally am against this project and other clear cut old growth forests.

Thank you,
