

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 5/22/2024 9:42:27 PM

First name: Kevin

Last name: Renfree

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I have been hunting in Arizona for almost 30 years. The Patagonias are a unique ecosystem, as it contains grasslands, rugged canyons, and oak trees which produce prime habitat for Mearn's quail, as well as other species such as Coues Deer. There is really no other are in the state that even closely compares to this area for Mearn's quail habitat. Please do not jeopardize this habitat for our future generation of hunters.