Comments: If this information is made public I ask to remain anonymous. Born and raised here in Nogales and Rio Rico area. Patagonia was always a weekend destination growing up. Growing up in this area the biggest challenge after high school was finding a job. A stable job with good hours and not something temporary or seasonal. Allowing south 32 will bring jobs and careers to a lot of residents in Santa Cruz county. It will allow the county to grow economically. Skilled jobs that are hard to find in this area. There is a lot of retirees that are out of state trying to prevent this project from happening. They are self centered and just want the attention. These people don't struggle to find a job they already lived there life why not allow the actual local people be able to afford an home and be able to find a good job locally? No one told these people to move here they decided and should have no say what happens locally. There is no jobs for the youth most as I did have to find a job in Tucson to able to afford living here. These self centered individuals are the ones that are destroying our community jacking up prices. If they don't like it they can find another little town to destroy but Rio Rico Nogales, Patagonia need growth and south 32 would be a good place to start.
