Comments: Dear Forest Service,

I'm writing to urge you to reconsider and abandon the Jellico Vegetation Management EA. Clearcutting or logging this forest can lead to landslides and to the overgrowth of invasive species that have already caused management issues there. Logging forests every 40 or so years does not allow indigenous species to fully take root or continue. There are lovely stands of ginseng and other valuable plants for humans and wildlife. Please abandon this plan and protect this valuable resource.

Thank you,

Tina Mozelle Braziel
