Comments: 10,000 acres of trees are in danger of being cut down. You all should be smart enough to know your science on trees and oxygen therefore there are not only trees in danger but people all over the place in danger. Trees help us breathe 10,000 acres of trees gone so my math which is probably wrong is about 2,600,000 pounds per oxygen a year gone due to people cutting trees down . Save the trees and our oxygen before these people kill a lot of people
