Comments: Forests and wildlife populations are in decline all over the world. Humans have pushed too far into natural habitats with no thought of the future of all wild places. What is the real benefit in these logging campaigns. The money will be gone faster than it is earned. There has to be a better way to manage these areas than why the forest service is proposing. This proposal threatens endangered wildlife and must be taken high in consideration of potential impacts. Please for once take a logical step for both humans and the wild world. I love Kentucky and it's forests I grew up in so much. Please do the right thing and protect these vulnerable wild spaces. I oppose strongly the Jellico proposal.
