Comments: My main question is why so much area is being proposed for access?

There is no evidence that OSV use is overcrowded and that more area is needed to meet the demand. So why is more area needed?

More practical questions...

Who is going to have responsibility for rescuing riders in very remote areas?

How will illegal hunting be monitored when riders can access remote animal habitats?

Will there be designated areas for snow shoers and back country

Skiers like myself who enjoy the peace and quiet of the back country?

Snow machines pollute air. Why introduce this into pristine areas?
