

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 6/27/2024 5:11:10 PM

First name: charles

Last name: card

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The preservation of old growth forests is essential given dwindling forests, logging and mismanagement. In addition to human activities, climate change is another factor that will affect the health of old growth forests. With decreasing open space, environmental destruction, old growth forests are a national treasure that needs to be preserved.