Comments: I think this is a great idea both economically and recreational. I believe there would be a large influx of riders during fall, winter and early spring visiting, staying for extended periods and injecting millions into the region. Lift served trails would give maximum opportunity for this to become a reality. 100 miles of trail is a lot of trail and the elevation is enough to compete with the bike parks out west. This is a great idea and I'm all for it. I travel to northwest Arkansas New Mexico and Texas several times a year to ride and stay in hotels, food, etc. So having something with lift served trails this close would be welcome. Let's make it happen.
