Comments: As someone that lives in North Texas, the only thing we have is Spider Mountain - which is small and not worth the 3hr drive for the little amount of vertical and trails they have. I wouldn't have any issue driving 1+ more hours to Arkansas for a legit lift served bike park and I know all my friends would agree. Arkansas has knocked it out of the ballpark when it comes to mountain bike trails the last decade but the one and ONLY thing, they are missing, is a true lift served downhill bike park. Make it happen Mena, AR!
