Comments: I love this idea! Mena is a great town that has tons of potential. The area that they are looking to put these trails is unbelievable. I know some will argue they are worried about the amount of trees that will be lost etc. I am very familiar with the work these groups do in the Bentonville area, and are amazed on how they are still able to keep the nature in tact. Mena needs something like this to help drive the economy. This will open up so many job opportunities for a community that really needs it. I have purchased property already in Mena, and plan to buy more. I have already reached out to the city to see if there are any grants available for potential Airbnb small home community catering to the mountain bike community that this project will reach.
