Comments: This space has been taken such good care of that sacred land. AJ Brink Outfitters and the staff for many years kept this clean safe beautiful historic land. When the owners sold it, we all became so worried about what will come of this family oriented home to many of us. If anyone wonder yup would help any hunter or guest or hikers with anything really from food to packing meat off crazy terrain because the hunter didn't guide with us and didn't think the shot through. We would always come to the rescue of whatever needed to be done. I felt land trust!?? Would keep it in its natural organic state as the woman who ran her business and brought in money for the cabin and restaurant she had passed all health inspections and put her heart and soul into this special place. Now that the land trust has shut her down those cabins and that restaurant are proolly way beyond repair. Which makes my heart hurt. But development of any will take away from serene pure beauty that this place has. Please stop developing. Truly Save The Lake!! The traffic that this land has already been over ran. It's not Sylvan Lake this is SweetWater Lake this is a way of life for many and being raised running and biking and riding and girl scouts and Halloween party's will always be in my memory for sure. I just that is gods country and we humans don't need to over ride that beauty. Adriane Brink knows what this land needs. Conserve this land don't developed
