Comments: I recommend the Forest Service take a leadership role in land management.

Leasing land to the state, county, or municipality to provide housing sets a bad precedent and bad example.

The state or municipality needs to be responsible for providing the proper housing necessary for a healthy community. They let developers , realtors and that corrupt industry build irresponsibly. Areas like Steamboat and Breckenridge are a travesty and unrecognizable as overdevelopment has wrecked the environment.

Dont bail out these towns they need to step up and stop growth. They need to contract and retreat. They need to prohibit second or third homes. or vacation homes.
