

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/1/2024 10:27:41 PM

First name: Jane

Last name: Netzler

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Responsible burning and logging is absolutely vital to managing Shawnee National Forest. Many invasive plants are encroaching and thankfully the Forest Service has done a wonderful job of stewardship. It's also reasonable to use herbicides to control unwanted growth.

With the increasing climate change, it's challenging to maintain the national forest. But responsible burning, logging, herbicides and other traditional methods work and help keep the Forest open for multiple recreational uses. Thank you.