Comments: Dispersed shooting is important to people who have social anxiety and need the solitude of hiking to a more isolated location. Shooting ranges are not the solution for everyone. Having places to hike for shooting starting from the eastern boundaries is important due to the time it can take to travel elsewhere. Time is a valuable resource and not everyone wants to take hours driving to a designated location far away. I've been watching recreational access to Pike slowly restricted for a variety of reasons and it is feeling like the citizens are getting cut off more every year. Let not have public lands that the public can't use. Don't punish everyone because some users have poor decorum in the forest.
