Comments: If the safety and welfare of wild horses were truly a concern like you have stated there wouldn't be any gathering! Horses are dying because of these gathers. There isn't a need for this! Millions of acres are present for wild horses & burros to roam free. That's why they are called wild. They need to stay wild. Forget cattle grazing in any area that belongs to horses. Americans want our wild ones to stay wild. They are not hurting any land or other wild animals. STOP this insanity! There aren't any 'excess' horses. Only excess livestock crowding horses out of their rightful lands!
