

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/23/2024 6:27:20 PM

First name: Scou

Last name: Tomyris

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Old growth forests sequester carbon. There is too much carbon in the earth's atmosphere. Removal of forests, especially old growth, releases carbon to the air. Solution: leave forests, particularly old growth, alone. Just let it stand there and work for the environment. I'm not a scientist, I just read a lot of science. I implore you to protect old growth forests. Thank you for doing the right thing.