Comments: As a Colorado native and lifetime resident who hunts and loves every bit of our Second Amendment, I fully support the expansion and improvement of this wonderful public resource! We need more ranges like this in our state. Although I don't live there, I do visit the area frequently and would be very likely to use this range in the future. Public shooting ranges are an important part of our culture that should be encouraged and supported in as many ways as we can, so that the generations to come can benefit from it in the same way we all have. I very much hope this goes forward with the full support of the community. It definitely has my support and that of my family and friends.
