

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/25/2024 12:42:01 PM

First name: Richard

Last name: Bradley

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The remaining areas of old growth forests should be preserved intact. They hold the greatest biodiversity, and reserves of sequestered carbon. We can certainly improve mid-age-growth forests so that they are on a trajectory to develop into old growth in the future. The focus should be on saving what little old growth we have, and managing younger forests for a healthy maturation.