

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/26/2024 5:48:51 PM

First name: James

Last name: Buck

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The US government should emphasize the need to protect our forest ecosystems and our climate by not allowing logging of the few remaining stands of old growth that remain. They are vital in future generations of foresters's study and understanding of forest ecology. They store carbon at much higher levels than young forests and their structures help reduce the intensity of wildfires. Please protect old growth timber stands and their environments that are so critical to many species.