

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/30/2024 11:59:01 PM

First name: Jaynee

Last name: Haygood

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Draft Amendment currently under consideration is being presented as a plan for resilient old-growth forests across the country. But judged by its stated objectives, the Draft Amendment does not meet its goals and could do more harm than good.

The Draft Amendment creates loopholes that could lead to increased logging of old-growth trees, lacks directives to create more old-growth by protecting mature forests, and applies a one size fits all approach to managing forests with very different needs.