

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 8/31/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Jim

Last name: Logan

Organization:

Title:

Comments: All old-growth forests need to be protected, and the redwoods of California in particular demand special attention. There should be zero "culling" of trees in those forests, which have thrived for millennia without human intervention. Indeed, the greatest threat to our ancient forests is us. We must do everything we can to preserve them, intact, in perpetuity.