

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/5/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: arne

Last name: johanson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Old growth forests are unique ecosystems with similarities to other forests. Yet they are different from other forests as well. The other living things within this ecosystem are different and may only exist within the old-growth. Old growth forests cannot and must not be managed like other forests.