

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/6/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Dale

Last name: Willey

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Forest service does not manage the forest correctly old growth timber that has just been diseased or is dying needs to be taken no matter what size it is to help stop the wildfires in this country. The fuel needs to be taken care of like it was meant to be, and quit wasting all the money on closing roads that are previously put it in. They destroy the roads you can't get into the fire you can't you gotta rebuild the road to get in to manage that area and where there has been a fire they do not manage it. They need to go in there and take that timber out. It's still good timber usable resource in the bureaucratic. Idiot won't clear the red tape to log it and clean that area up it is ridiculous. They put signs up on roads, hazardous fire area watch out for falling trees. Well it should've been logged instead of putting the sign up log it take care of it like it supposed to be. this is ridiculous , thank you my name is Dale. I would love to hear back from her about this.