Comments: Please don't use large equipment and helicopters to do this work. It will certainly create a messy, noisy, and destructive outcome to the whole area and disrupt wildlife habitat. You'll be doing more harm to the environment than good. Why not hire temp workers to come in and do most of it? It gives people jobs and provides a much quieter work situation. Are there any wildlife around there that will be affected the dust and noise that will come? I'm not a rocket scientist to understand everything, but we all need to protect what natural resources we have because they'll all be gone someday from pollution, climate change, and humans.
