Comments: I am firmly against the logging of old growth trees and I hope you will have the strength to stand with me on this important issue. Old growth is not something that can be regained at the rate we are destroying it and we have other options. Stop accepting-stop choosing-needless waste and destruction for a fickle bottom line that will never be satisfied. There is a greater bottom line we all depend on. The ecological implications alone affect us all. Invest in our future; have the courage to choose a better future. Say no to harvesting old growth.
