Comments: I believe the Wilderness Act prohibits construction or use of any mechanized transportation in Wilderness. Wilderness structures should be left to re-wild. There is absolutely no excuse for this proposal to do construction in any of our wilderness areas.

Human constructed building in our Wilderness areas do nothing to enhance the natural beauty of an area in Wilderness. Using human-centric value judgments to call a structure 'an enhancement' is to ignore the heart and soul of our Wilderness Act. We do not need to have invasive re-construction done in our wilderness. It is not an enhancement of nature to have Euro-built structures in wild areas.
