Comments: I am concerned about the Emerald Lake Shelter Reconstruction Project #66370. I am a believer that the wild places left on this planet should be "left" wild. This means that no shelters or human construction should be found anywhere in a wilderness. This also means that if human persons desire to enter into wild areas, they should be prepared for extreme weather or other incidents that can occur because they are in a habitat environment. Habitats for animals, not us. We have spread like a plague over this planet and should not entice humans to spread into what is left of our wild places. If someone wants to venture into the wild, they should be prepared to rough it in every way. Period. No construction, no shelters, no showers, no roads.
