

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/10/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Eloisa

Last name: Rodriguez

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Old Growth Forests are one of our most important CO2 sinks, especially in a time where if we don't act against climate change immediately and intensely, there will not be a future for our children. There are ethical ways to grow and harvest trees (look at paper! Look at Japan!). Companies looking to harvest wood should instead seek other options, outside of the destruction of our National Forests.