Comments: For what purpose would cutting down old-growth trees even serve except to put more money within the hands of corporations that will not pass that money down to the rest of the American People? Why should I support freely giving forests, (which I, as a tax-paying American Citizen, have right to,) to become the corporate profits of a handful of CEOs? The planet we live on is actively dying. A walk in the forest is far more beneficial to a larger group of people than any new home or business to be built, Espicially considering there are more empty homes in America than there are Homeless People.

Protect Our Trees.
