Comments: We are a plague on this earth, spreading and destroying, laying concrete over nature. Please don't allow these pristine areas to be anything but habitats for whatever mammals and birds call it home. Please don't allow this place to be developed and destroyed in yet another greed driven man-made folly. We really don't need to make money off of every piece of land that is public property. We forget that these are habitats not land development deals. Animals die, because they can't negotiate. When we take their homes, they die. When we fragment their habitat, they die. This is a long sustained area that animals have come to depend on, not changing. So do that. That very important, not changing thing.
