Comments: Aloha to all concerned,

In our day and age of accelerated population influx, growth and development I feel, more than ever before, the need of securing and setting aside land that can benefit the schools and general population is an absolute essential in not only maintaining a natural balance but in nurturing our much maligned educational system. Let's do this for the sake of future generations and the future of our nation and state.

Mahalo for listening.

Sincerely,

Jim Cazel
