Comments: Humans do only damage to this planet! If you are considering logging in an old growth forest, I ask, what is wrong with you?? We need to preserve what is left of old growth forests not log it for the sake of the almighty dollar. If you cannot preserve old growth versus planting new trees where logging has already been accomplished then you are contributing to the problem! Think of the future!! I wonder about how many government agencies might be involved in taking bribes from large corporations.
