Comments: Please prohibit future logging of any old growth forest around this country. Old growth forest are essential to environmental health and I feel will be critical to the future existence of humankind. We need to protect this endangered habitats so we can preserve the rich biodiversity they shelter. From plants, fungi and animals, the rare species that are found here need to be saved as we face the threat of climate change, these species could provide the propagation material needed in this fight. As an expecting father, I want my child to be able to experience the majestic wilderness as its been. The logging industry has been allowed to continually destroy these ecosystems and their reforestation efforts continually fail to produce healthy forests, please keep them off the land so all my know what true healthy forests are, there are so very few of them left.
