Comments: Protect the animals that live in the forest. Protect the insects that pollinate the flowers in the forest, protect the trees in the forest. Protect the forest. Stop selling off what is left of the actual habitat that protects the animals and the trees. Tree farms are not habitat. Did you think they were? Is that why you are selling the trees to the logging interest? Tree farms are barren and poisoned by the timber industry. Animals and biodiversity can not live in tree farms. The old growth forest we have left is very important to us. To the insects and the animals and to the air we breathe.
