

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/17/2024 2:33:25 AM

First name: Scott

Last name: Species

Organization:

Title:

Comments: With the purpose of the National Old Growth Amendment to conserve old-growth forest conditions and recruit new old-growth in response to climate change, protection of the Tongass National Forest should be the very top priority as our largest National Forest and greatest carbon sink.

Due to its low temperatures and high annual rainfall, the Tongass is at low risk for wildfire, so it has a high likelihood of permanence and will continue to trap and store carbon in perpetuity.