

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/18/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Laura

Last name: Bean

Organization:

Title:

Comments: It takes 8 trees to make the oxygen necessary for one human to breathe in a year. Prudence, responsibility, safety, all require that we recognize our interdependence with trees. Wildfires due to lack of old growth and homogenous growth patterns threatens our very existence and ability to breathe. Culture, heritage, stewardship, biological diversity, demand that we carefully preserve our old growth forests. It is imperative.