Comments: I trust science and the data shows that dynamic forests with proper management serve wildlife better than a focus solely on old growth forests. We need disturbed, young, and old forests. I support RGWS and their push to work with government to better manage forests for habitat, wildlife, rural economy and long term stability. We need a mix of forest not old growth! I am a staunch conservationist and love being in and exploring our countries great forests. Trust science and the importance of disturbance for all of our imperiled species that require young forests too.
