

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/19/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Ildiko

Last name: Overbay

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Old Growth forests are critical to human health because they provide us with clean water, and clean air by absorbing carbon. They are also a place for recreation and to connect us and future generations with the land. They also supply habitat for wildlife, helping ecosystems to survive. Please don't log old growth forests.

Sincerely,

Ildiko M Overbay