

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/19/2024 4:00:00 AM

First name: Richard

Last name: Bjorum

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Any and all plans for sustainable forests should include sustaining all the flora and fauna that inhabit it. Too often in our state foresters seem to forget this when authorizing timber sales both in species and size. For example cutting for grouse should be done on a checkerboard pattern restricted to about 40 acres in size.