Comments: I do a ton of grouse and woodcock hunting in Price, Iron, and Rusk Counties. I no longer hunt the National Forest due to poor management for upland birds. I fully support Option 2 for managing our National Forests. Compared to MFL lands and County Forests, I feel the Chequamegon has become a ecological desert. I know there are some small pockets of cover, but not many.

I live in Dane County, WI. My cabin is in Price County on the Pike/Round chain, right in the center of the middle unit of the Chequamegon Forest. About 10 years ago there was a lawsuit initiated in Madison about logging in our area. I called the organization about it and brought up active management on half and leaving half alone. These people cannot even compromise.
