Comments: What kind of world will we have for the future if we keep mining in new spaces and near places for wildlife to live. We'll have no world as we know it. Our world doesn't belong to consumerism or capitalism and instead deserves to be run by scientists and environmentalists. Don't take away sacred places, don't destroy what few and previously rich ecological systems for material gain to a few. It's not worth the future we're giving up for fast cash. Please stop new mining sites.
